I belive it.

Mainly because I preordered my Wii a total 1 day(s) before the release date and got it 9am the next morning.

Man how I loved ePlay... Those guys went the extra mile... :')

But erm, yeah, it's apprantly quite good.

What's it like?

I got the game and so far its ok. The only complain I have is that it is too dark and the controls takes some getting used to. Its not like the previous games where you use the R2 and L2 to look left and right. Now you use the L Stick which really doesn't do it for me.

Same... too dark and the controls are a bit stiff and different to the normal.

Aha!
Excellent!

An unbiased opinion of the game!
I hate it when reviews only ever say how excellent a game is...

There's no such thing as a perfect game. :)

An amazing game that be, not perfect...

I think with more modern controls, a few new levels and upped graphics it could be one of the greatest games of all time.

A tip... Do as many side missions as you can early on, because a lot of them don't come up twice as you progress. And keep an eye out for pigeons, kill them.

Another Tip of Advice don't get addicted. I almost missed work and spent an entire week playing the game without getting much done.
