
Games you are looking forward to...

Posted by OhDearMoshe - 2008/07/30 14:42

....over the next 12 months?

You guys got any.

Mines are Spore for PC. It looks like a very interesting game although the unrelenting dread that my planets will get populated with other peoples penis monsters is a bit of a drag.

Gears of War 2. I really enjoyed the first one and the second one promises to be even more fun.

The next sonic game. Promises to combine both the 2D old school stuff as well as the good successful 3D gameplay. From what's been described and see I think it looks fantastic. Could be the first decent Sonic Game in a long time.

!!!PROTOTYPE!!!

This game is going to KICK A

also the new prince of persia title

God of war 3 for shure!!

And the awesome darksiders game from vigil.
My opinion is that darksiders will be a "god of war killer"
...if you get what im saying :)

Bugger I forgot about that. That will be a fun one. Especially because I don't have a DS and missed the last one. Well actually my dad does now but....he's just as bad as me for animal crossing.

new silent hill?

Re:Games you are looking forward too...

Posted by smartie - 2008/07/31 17:04

Benjo-Kazooie yeeees right i had forgotten about this game!!!

The first one was on N64 and it was more than just a game back then. To me it was an experience! It really sucked you into its world right?

And it was a tough motherfuer wasnt it?

here is the website----> <http://www.banjo-kazooie.com/>

Out of the ones properly announced, not vague promises of "We have the Zelda teams in development" crap...

LittleBigPlanet

Eternal Sonata for the PS3

Fat Princess

Star Ocean IV

Star Ocean remakes (or is it both 1 and 2?) for the PSP

Those are probably the big ones

Wow killzone 2 still isn't out?:blink:

I don't really follow sony stuff...but I thought that was supposed to be a launch title or something? :woohoo:

Well atm I'm just waiting for a Japanese release of Metroid Prime 3 : Corruption Mad World: Over the top violence with motion controls? Yes please.

De Blob: Really not convinced on this one, but I really like the idea. Seems like Katamari, but I kind of expect it to fall short of awesome.

Wario Land: Shake It!: A Platformer for a new system? Awesome. I'm there.

MegaMan 9: Duh. Must have.

I dont have a 360/PS3, but for those systems I like the looks of:

Bionic Commando: Amazing redo of a class. Looks really fun, and right up my alley.

Braid: I'll probably get this on PC when it comes out. My favorite games are platformers, so I'm really looking forward to playing this one.

Resident Evil 5: Really loved 4, shame I can't play 5 yet. I'll probably play it on a friend's ps3 or something.

Little Big Planet: I'm hoping this game is great. Looks like fun co-op, and I love co-op.

Bayonetta: Mostly just because I really enjoyed Okami.

But I don't have enough money to buy it atm anyway ...Metroid is advertised sooo little in Japan I didn't notice it launch haha.

Yeah, I've heard that Metroid is tiny in Japan.

Re:Games you are looking forward too...

Wouldn't be surprised. Zelda was probably advertised heaps, and even that wasn't popular there.

And instead everyone buys Wii Fit. :S

Looking forward to Fire Emblem on the DS and to the new Tales of Symphonia game for the Wii. I hope it's released in Europe, because the Freeloader doesn't work, does it?

Wii Fit isn't a game. ;)

Nah, I'm just kidding. I've no problem with Wii Fit.

I sure do...

I am also interested in Free Realms for me and my sister to play, but I am NOT paying $5-10 US a month to unlock the other 40% of the game, no way.

Looking forward to resi 5, but worried about new silent hill... some the screens i saw looked great but then a couple weeks later some new screens which looked "samey" and with out detail i was expecting from next gen. Gears 2 on list for sure but also Banjo, how cool does that look!?!

Considering that Twilight Princess was basically a GC game made compatible for the Wii, I'm looking forward to a true Wii Zelda game. It will be interesting to see how they incorporate the wiimote and motion sensor into the game. Also I'm looking forward to Animal Crossing City Folk. :)

Re:Games you are looking forward too...

Atm I'm interested in Mad World and The Conduit which are both being published by SEGA! Which is a surprise for me since imho sega haven't made anything decent since F-Zero GX :D
Hoping those 2 will be cool.

Also looking forward to disaster, finally coming out! I've heard a lot of praise so far - only downside is it takes under 10 hours to complete - which isn't that bad if you're busy like me I guess. :D

Has anyone else seen the latest SEGA game that managed to get 40/40 in famitsu?
(I read about it here)

I'm now interested in it, just because of that review :laugh:
Apparently it's an interactive novel...so I'm thinking something along the lines of another code?
I hope so because I absolutely loved another code! (and hotel dusk, and phoenix wright, which are similar genres imo)

Re:Games you are looking forward too...

Posted by eamonn - 2008/11/29 23:50

Well, yeah, but Nintendogs got 40/40 as well. :P

Seriously though, it sounds interesting. I'll probably end up buying it, but I hope they don't screw up the voicework.

But I'll be getting the Japanese version so no worries there. :P
